Homeschool
Upgrade
ONLINE SUMMIT

OCTOBER 12 - 16, 2020

Our mission as parents is monumental:
to raise our children to be disciples of Jesus Christ
who know their God and seek His Kingdom above everything.

But wow — is it ever a fight to stay on target!

Through a week of video sessions with a world-class lineup of homeschooling and parenting authors and speakers at the Homeschool Upgrade Summit, we'll climb past the distractions of worldly success and upgrade our vision, relationships, academics, and success to the family discipleship life:
that in everything, Christ might have the preeminence!

Meet Your Hosts

Your hosts for Homeschool Summits meet with each speaker over video chat right at home (with kiddos nearby!) to hear their wisdom and ask them personalized questions — essentially your own personal guides through the Summit. Get to know them a little here:

Daniel & Megan

“We first started homeschooling about 25 years ago ... well, our parents did! As homeschool grads, we’re enthusiastic about home education, discipleship, and the church, and we take that into our daily life. We desire to raise our family (two little ones so far!) to know and love Christ wholeheartedly, and we’re grateful for every opportunity to share that passion with others!”

Todd & Jessie

“We’re committed to raising our children in the fear and admonition of the Lord, seeing the importance of strengthening future generations for the work of the Kingdom. We’ve been homeschooling our 8 children for the past 18 years, and just graduated our first child last year. Todd also serves as a pastor of our local church.”

Brandee

“My cowboy husband, Roy, and I are fourth-generation ranchers. Our prayer as we raise our four cowpoke sons is that they will grow up to be warriors for Christ who are passionate about learning, and it’s my joy to speak truth with love and laughter for other parents on the same homeschooling journey!”

Kick-Off Keynote

Heaven or Harvard: What Are You Aiming For?

Things to Learn:

- Recalibrate your understanding of discipleship and parenting according to God's Word
- The importance of thinking rightly about the homeschool life
- Discover why we are equipped and qualified to homeschool our children

Session Takeaways:

- The truth that God made us for His glory provides a foundational starting point for our lives and homeschool.
- The duty we have to our children is rooted in the calling God has placed on parents.
- Teach your children a worldview that will influence their lifestyle according to God's Word.
- All the things that fill our lives — our relationships, families, and education — all matter in light of the coming of Christ.

Notes:

VODDIE BAUCHAM

Voddie Baucham Ministries

Voddie Baucham is a husband, father, pastor, professor, church planter, and author. He currently serves as the Dean of the School of Divinity at African Christian University in Lusaka, Zambia.

The Vision Upgrade

Ten Upgrade Secrets: Part 1

Things to Learn:

- Building on the right foundation
- The principle of individuality

Session Takeaways:

- Disciple your children in humility and the fear of God through all the academic subjects because education challenges us to be humble.
- We want to teach our children that every subject in school is sourced by God.
- Modern education is in shambles because it has missed the proper foundation – now is the time to reset and make sure we don't miss it, too!

Notes:

KEVIN SWANSON

Generations

Homeschooled himself in the 1960's and 70's, Kevin Swanson and his wife, Brenda, went on to homeschool their own five children, their last student graduating last year. Over the years, Kevin has been involved in numerous leadership positions in corporate management, church, and various non-profits. Along with 43 years of experience in the homeschooling movement, he also serves as the Director of Generations – a ministry he founded to strengthen homeschool families around the country. As a father who wants to leave a godly heritage for his own five children, Kevin's passion is to strengthen and encourage the homeschooling movement all over the world and to cast a vision for generations to come.

The Vision Upgrade

Me? Homeschool?

Things to Learn:

- Recognizing God's hand at work
- What to do when you feel overwhelmed or unqualified
- Action steps for growing in your homeschool journey

Session Takeaways:

- Your “moment” when you got started homeschooling may not be what you imagined, but it is perfectly what God had planned for you and your family.
- God meets us where we are — most abundantly in the places where we see how helpless we are. Homeschooling, like everything else in life, is all about Him.
- If homeschooling feels overwhelming, just keep breathing, enjoy, and praise God in anticipation of what He will do.

Notes:

RACHAEL CARMAN

Apologia

Rachael Carman had it going on—or so she thought. After surviving sixty-three months of pregnancy, countless sleepless nights, and 35,000+ diapers, this one-time control freak encountered God's grace. And she encourages you to do the same! Rachael is not only a respected author but is also a sought-after speaker. She has been a speaker in over thirty states and seven countries. She has been married to her husband, Davis, since 1986. They have seven kids with whom they love to laugh. Together, their life has been a roller-coaster ride, with God at the controls. Rachael enjoys playing in the dirt, eating dark chocolate, and walking on the beach. She and Davis are the owners of Apologia Educational Ministries. You can find Rachael online at www.RachaelCarman.com. You can listen to her on the Let's Talk Homeschool Podcast.

The Vision Upgrade

How Not to Educate (Like a Heathen)

Things to Learn:

- Why God wants your children to be educated
- Understanding the worldviews that threaten a God-centered understanding of life and education
- Addressing and escaping “Boxanity” in order to embrace Christian discipleship

Session Takeaways:

- Before you can answer the question, “Why should I educate my children?” you need to answer “Why do I exist?” You cannot get the education question correct until you know your purpose.
- You won’t educate like a heathen if you have developed an integrated biblical worldview.
- Education works because it came from the mind of a logical God.
- The more that you know about God and His created world, the more you can be a blessing to others.

Notes:

ISRAEL WAYNE

Family Renewal

Israel Wayne is an author, conference speaker, and Director of Family Renewal. He and his wife, Brook, are raising their ten children in SW Michigan.

The Vision Upgrade

Just Starting to Homeschool? Spiritual, Social, Academic, and Personal Advantages

Things to Learn:

- Facing fears that come with homeschooling
- How to make the most of homeschooling's flexibility
- Specific ways to point your family to God within homeschooling

Session Takeaways:

- Take the liberty to find the curriculum that works well for your children. Don't feel you always have to commit to the first option you tried.
- When it comes to your homeschool journey, just begin, and God will cause the harvest to come.
- Allowing your children to work and learn alongside the things you are doing gives your family a marvelous place of growth.

Notes:

RENEE ELLISON

Homeschool How-To's

Renee Ellison has more than 30 years of experience in the field of education—in Christian, private, secular, and home school settings. She home educated for nearly 20 years. Renee has taught nearly all grade levels, and was an elementary principal, head of a high school English department, was awarded Teacher of the Year, developed and ran gifted and talented programs, and has conducted numerous teacher training workshops. Renee invented a system for learning how to touch-type that has been sold worldwide, as has her similar system for learning how to play the piano. Her Zoom-Type, Quick Piano, and Fast Phonics courses exemplify how, as a Bible-believing home-schooling mom, Renee delights in using her professional academic background to help others teach and train more effectively at home. Renee and her husband are the parents of one child (more in heaven), and work together to create homeschool how-tos and make them available to you.

The Vision Upgrade

The Battle for our Children

Things to Learn:

- How to reorient for the path of family discipleship
- Evaluating your goals for homeschooling and aiming for the best ones
- Why parents should seek truth alongside their children

Session Takeaways:

- Don't be scared to embark on family discipleship. As a parent, God uniquely called and created you for it.
- Give your children continual reinforcement of the inspiration, inerrancy, and sufficiency of Scripture as you build their worldview.
- Everything comes back to the Gospel — the best thing you can do for your family is to teach the Gospel and how it all points to Christ.

Notes:

CARLTON MCCLEOD

Carlton is the senior pastor of Calvary Reformation Church in Chesapeake, VA. He has been married to Donna since 1992 and they have three beautiful children. His passions include biblical exposition and church life, family reformation, and biblical stewardship.

The Relationship Upgrade

Ten Upgrade Secrets: Part 2

Things to Learn:

- The Rooting in Relationships
- The Principle of Protection
- Quality One-on-One Instruction

Session Takeaways:

- When we think about family relationships, we start by remembering that God is relational.
- Our definition of education needs to be holistic: nurture and disciple the whole child, not just the intellectual aspects of knowledge.
- We're doing "heart surgery" in homeschooling — and we aren't qualified for that, but God is, and He equips His people.
- Educating is not a paint by number; it's a sculpture.
- Character and faith are the core of real education.

Notes:

KEVIN SWANSON

Generations

Homeschooled himself in the 1960's and 70's, Kevin Swanson and his wife, Brenda, went on to homeschool their own five children, their last student graduating last year. Over the years, Kevin has been involved in numerous leadership positions in corporate management, church, and various non-profits. The Relationship Upgrade

Sharing Life, Love and Learning... How Homeschooling Can Build Relationships

Things to Learn:

- The unique perks of homeschooling for family strength
- Effectively teach your children how to communicate
- Balancing quality time versus quantity time

Session Takeaways:

- Learning is exciting. The opportunity to learn together is a thrilling opportunity to grow together and form unique bonds in your relationship.
- Look for creative ways for both parents to be involved in homeschooling, developing deeper relationships.
- The opportunities to grow, learn, work, and play together are providentially God-given. We don't want to take them lightly!

Notes:

HEATHER HAUPT & COLLEEN LEWIS

HeatherHaupt.com

Heather Haupt is an author and speaker who was homeschooled and is now homeschooling her five children. Recognizing the brevity of childhood and the power of a parent's influence, Heather both inspires and equips families toward intentional parenting, pursuing God, and delighting in the adventure of learning. She is the author of the books Knights in Training: Ten Principles for Raising Honorable, Courageous and Compassionate Boys; The Ultimate Guide to Brain Breaks; and co-author of GO GLOBAL: A Literature-Heavy, Movement-Rich Learning Adventure. She writes at CultivatedLearning.org and HeatherHaupt.com.

Colene Lewis is a teacher, mentor, speaker, and curriculum developer (and Heather's mom!). Having homeschooled her children where learning was a way of life, she now helps parents introduce their children to living books and movement-rich activities which provide academic excellence and a love of learning. Colene has spoken across the country at homeschool, public school, and librarian conferences. She writes at CultivatedLearning.org

Raising Holy Kids in an R-Rated World

Things to Learn:

- How to become your child's educator and their trusted resource
- Steps to developing media literacy in your children
- Tips for sensitive conversations to guide good and godly thoughts in our children

Session Takeaways:

- Teach your children to think critically about the world because you are training future adults who need to be prepared to interact with the world.
- Love for others should be genuine and humble, and always rejoicing in God's truth.
- Rather than an internet filter, give your children an internal filter.

Notes:

LUKE & TRISHA GILKERSON

Intoxicated on Life

Luke and Trisha Gilkerson are owners of the popular website for Christian parents, Intoxicated On Life. Authors of dozens of books for Christian parents and homeschooling families, their best-selling book, The Talk: 7 Lessons to Introduce Your Child to Biblical Sexuality, has been used by thousands of Christian parents around the world. Luke has a Masters in Religion from Reformed Theological Seminary and Trisha has a Masters in Counseling from Michigan State University.

The Relationship Upgrade

Delighting in Your Children: The Key to Keeping Their Hearts

Things to Learn:

- What your time-management exposes to your children
- How to express healthy emotions to your children
- The impact of a vibrant relationship with God on your family relationships

Session Takeaways:

- The things that mean a lot to your children need to mean a lot to you – that's one way you can show that you delight in them.
- If you're not satisfied with the way God has treated you in your life, you won't be satisfied in your family relationships.
- When your children look back on their growing up years, you will want them to remember that their parents believed in them.

Notes:

RICK AND MARILYN BOYER

Character Concepts

Rick and Marilyn Boyer are true pioneers of the homeschooling movement. Starting in 1980, they educated all of their fourteen children from kindergarten through high school. Along the way, they wrote over twenty books for parents and kids, in addition to creating Character Concepts—a Bible-based character curriculum for young people of preschool through high school age. Marilyn is loved for her wisdom, experience and loving passion for helping younger moms. Rick's messages blend intensity with humor as he applies life experience and scriptural principles to share parenting solutions that work. Together, the Boyers share the vision that built a family of grown sons and daughters who love God and are each other's best friends.

The Relationship Upgrade

Everyday Discipleship: How to Engage in Everyday Discipleship With Your Family

Things to Learn:

- How to let go of the stress or fear of family devotions
- How to keep God's Word as an ongoing conversation with your children
- Incorporating rest as a part of your family routine

Session Takeaways:

- You will have the most to share with your children when you have been prayerfully in the Word of God.
- More than having a structure or rigid routines, always look for teachable moments with your children.
- Each day together with your family is an opportunity to live out what you truly believe.

Notes:

TROY & RUTH CHOU SIMONS
GraceLaced

*Ruth Chou Simons is a bestselling author, entrepreneur, and speaker. She shares her journey of God's grace intersecting daily life with word and paintbrush through an online shoppe at GraceLaced.com and her Instagram community of more than a hundred thousand. Ruth and her husband, Troy, are grateful parents to six boys – their greatest adventure. Ruth's first book, GraceLaced, won a 2018 Christian Book Award.*

The Academic Upgrade

Ten Upgrade Secrets: Part 3

Things to Learn:

- The principle of doing the basics well
- Maintaining the honor and mystique of learning
- The principle of wise, sequential progression
- The principle of life integration

Session Takeaways:

- It doesn't matter how much money you spend on curriculum, but it does matter that you teach the fear of God as the beginning of wisdom and knowledge.
- Let's never give our children an education where they don't understand the core reason of why we are doing it.
- The best teachers are the enthusiastic ones who truly enjoy God's world and the teaching process.
- Education will be a waste of time if it remains as un-applied, hypothetical knowledge.

Notes:

KEVIN SWANSON

Generations

Homeschooled himself in the 1960's and 70's, Kevin Swanson and his wife, Brenda, went on to homeschool their own five children, their last student graduating last year. Over the years, Kevin has been involved in numerous leadership positions in corporate management, church, and various non-profits. The Academic Upgrade

Life Is Your Classroom: The Powerful Advantage of Real-Life Learning

Things to Learn:

- The difference between school and education
- How to recognize your children's intelligence and success
- The importance of life skills and emotional intelligence
- Keys for "opening the door" so your child can learn anything

Session Takeaways:

- A child's interest in a subject is a huge factor for what information sticks with them.
- What do you remember from your schooling? Keep your focus on the things that will matter in the long run.
- There is not a start and finish time for learning (only for school).

Notes:

KELLY CRAWFORD

Generation Cedar

Kelly and her husband are the parents of 11 children, and she currently homeschools her nine still at home. She and her husband live in the quiet, deep South and you can find her online at GenerationCedar.com where she writes to encourage moms in the trenches to work for God's glory.

The Academic Upgrade

How to Cultivate a Love for Learning

Things to Learn:

- Tips for balancing and creating a realistic workload
- Sharing a love of learning with your children
- How to see God's hand in the academics

Session Takeaways:

- Give your children the tools, skills, and a love of learning to learn on their own.
- Learning to see God's hand in academics is not only of vast importance — but also makes everything more interesting!
- Learn to share one another's enthusiasm about learning within your family. When one person is excited about learning, join in their excitement.
- Limiting media and technology can help reawaken your family's love for learning.

Notes:

VICTORIA BOTKIN

Victoria's Library

Victoria Botkin is wife to Geoffrey Botkin, mother of seven, and homeschooling veteran of 30+ years. She has produced a series on "Curriculum Advice", written and hosted a ladies' study, "She Shall Be Called Woman," and, drawing from her years of reading aloud to own her children, produced the "Voices From the Past" audiobook series. She shares her homeschooling advice, encouragement, and resource reviews at VictoriasLibrary.com.

The Academic Upgrade

Off the Conveyor Belt: Balancing Structure and Customization for Each Unique Child

Things to Learn:

- Practical ideas for understanding how your children learn
- One simple tool to use as a bridge between multiple age levels in your homeschool
- Getting out of the “public school box” that’s in your head

Session Takeaways:

- Don’t expect every school year to look the same — allow your homeschooling to grow and adjust.
- One of the most exciting aspects of homeschooling is to learn and study your children while they are learning.
- Spend time in prayer and seek God for how to homeschool, rather than just bringing your prior conceptions of what school should look like.

Notes:

TAUNA MEYER

The Proverbial Homemaker

Tauna Meyer is founder of ProverbialHomemaker.com and a homeschooling mom of six who speaks to women with encouragement that is relatable and tools that work in real life.

She has a passion for helping moms overcome the hurdles that keep them from homeschooling successfully, all while pointing themselves and their children to Christ.

The Academic Upgrade

True for You, But Not for Me – Equipping Our Children to Discern and Follow Truth in Our Homes and Beyond

Things to Learn:

- Why children need to be trained to independently discern the truth
- Simple ways to communicate that truth is not relative
- How to help even young children examine and evaluate what is true

Session Takeaways:

- In an age where even language has become twisted, teach your children to articulate a definition of truth.
- No matter the age of your students, they can begin being taught to evaluate the claims they are hearing and whether those claims are found in the Bible.
- God’s Word gives us the gift of stability and a sound mind.
- We want our children to learn that the truth of the Gospel does not fluctuate with our feelings.

Notes:

ELIZABETH
URBANOWICZ
Foundation Worldview

Elizabeth Urbanowicz is a follower of Jesus who is passionate about equipping kids to understand the truth of the Christian worldview. Elizabeth holds a B.S. in Elementary Education from Gordon College, an M.S.Ed. in Education from Northern Illinois University, and an M.A. in Christian Apologetics from Biola University. Elizabeth spent the first decade of her professional career teaching elementary students at a Christian school. Elizabeth now works full time on developing comparative worldview and apologetics resources for children. Her goal is to prepare the next generation to be lifelong critical thinkers and, most importantly, lifelong disciples of Jesus.

The Success Upgrade

Ten Upgrade Secrets: Part 4

Things to Learn:

- The preeminence of character
- Preparation for life

Session Takeaways:

- Your definition of success is based on your worldview, and whether yourself or God is the center of your universe.
- The substance of education is character and faith. Geology, geometry, and other academic subjects are only meant to build on the structure.
- We are not looking, in the end, for “successful” homeschoolers but for faithful homeschoolers

Notes:

KEVIN SWANSON

Generations

Homeschooled himself in the 1960's and 70's, Kevin Swanson and his wife, Brenda, went on to homeschool their own five children, their last student graduating last year. The Success Upgrade

How to Help Your Children Discover and Pursue Their Calling

Things to Learn:

- Integrating biblical life lessons into daily life
- Steps for changing course to get to God's best for your family
- How to prioritize and develop the gifts God has given your children

Session Takeaways:

- Nothing important you will do in life comes without sacrifice, emphasis, and hard work — even God-given giftings.
- As a parent, you are called to give your children a foundation of godly principles which they can build on their entire lives.
- Refocusing the family course begins with the husband and wife communicating and praying together.

Notes:

NANCY CAMPBELL

Above Rubies

Nancy Campbell is a mother and grandmother who has been publishing Above Rubies for 43 years. Above Rubies is a magazine to encourage wives, mothers, and homemakers.

The Success Upgrade

The Gospel Comes with a House Key

Things to Learn:

- A gospel-centered vision for hospitality
- How the gospel frees us to resolve conflict
- Homeschooling for Jesus Christ

Session Takeaways:

- Biblical hospitality is seeking out strangers and loving them as neighbors, to see them become family of God.
- We can love by giving “pricey” time instead of “leftover” time, and God blesses that.
- We are all minor characters — we may be the characters without names. We don’t need to be in the spotlight to be useful for God’s work.

Notes:

ROSARIA BUTTERFIELD

Rosaria Butterfield (PhD, Ohio State University) is an author, speaker, pastor’s wife, homeschool mom, and former professor of English and women’s studies at Syracuse University. She is the author of The Secret Thoughts of an Unlikely Convert; Openness Unhindered; and The Gospel Comes with a House Key.

The Success Upgrade

Redefining Success: Preparing Your Children to Seek God's Kingdom First

Things to Learn:

- The necessity of affection and kindness toward your children
- Delighting in the Lord within your family
- Practical thoughts on keeping your children's hearts

Session Takeaways:

- If we want to find true success for our children it will be that they stand before the Lord and hear "well done."
- We imitate God's love for us when we give our children grace, showing them kindness, affection, and delight.
- All the actions we want to see grow in our lives and our children's lives will grow from the foundation of the truth in Ephesians 1-3.

Notes:

STEPHEN KENDRICK

Kendrick Brothers

Stephen Kendrick has dedicated his life to serving Jesus Christ and to making Him known around the world. He is a co-writer for the screenplays and books and the producer for Kendrick Brothers' films. Stephen and his wife, Jill, live in Albany, Georgia, with their six children. They are active members of Sherwood Church in Albany.

The Success Upgrade

Your Family on a Mission

Things to Learn:

- Why we're called to follow God's leading – even, and especially, into “danger”
- How to recognize God's faithfulness and protection
- Keys for cultivating faith and reliance on God in our children

Session Takeaways:

- Lead your family by the opportunities God places in front of you, not the dangers that might happen.
- When evaluating danger ask, “Why are we here and did Jesus send us?” If God sent you, you can stay and do His work.
- Put as much eternal truth into your children's lives as possible, daily. Sometimes that pursuit takes you places you don't imagine.

Notes:

DAVID AND KAREN EUBANK

Free Burma Rangers

David Eubank was born in Texas and grew up as the son of Christian missionaries in Thailand before attending Texas A&M University and being commissioned as an officer in the US Army. He is a former U.S. Army Special Forces and Ranger officer. He is the founder and leader of the Free Burma Rangers (FBR), a humanitarian service movement for oppressed ethnic minorities of all races and religions in the Burma, Iraq, Kurdistan, Syria and Sudan war zones. Along with relief, his personal mission is to share the love of Jesus Christ and to help people be free from oppression. FBR teams are comprised of men and women of different ethnicities and faiths that are united for freedom by the bond of love and service. David is joined on missions by his wife Karen and three children; Sahale 20, Suuzanne 18, and Peter 14. They work alongside the 100 ethnic FBR relief teams in the conflict areas of Burma, Iraq, Kurdistan, Syria and Sudan giving help, hope, and love by putting a light on the situation. The Eubank family started the Global Day of Prayer for Burma and the Good Life Club family outreach program.
